Hello FCC staff,
I am writing in support of XM Satellite radio being able to offer weather and traffic information. I live in San Diego, California where traffic can be awful. Traditional radio is terrible when it comes to providing good, useable information on the road conditions mostly due to radio station's need for advertisement money. So, instead of travelers actually hearing about road conditions when they need to hear about them they are being fed a commercial about plastic surgery, teeth whitening, a 'terrific' new way to get a low rate on a mortgage or some other 'crap'. It would make my life, and so many others, a lot easier if XM could provide us the information we need, when we need it here in San Diego. Please allow them to perform this needed service.

Thanks,

Dustin Teske
